

2 day First Aid at Work Refresher

This 2 day programme in Emergency First Aid has been developed for individuals who wish to refresh their knowledge and qualification of Emergency First Aid in the Workplace.

The HSE regulations state that all students undertaking this course must provide evidence that their qualification has not expired beyond 28 days of their expiry date, as shown on their First Aid at Work certificate.

The course will include a revision of topics covered in the 4 day programme, together with any new First Aid procedures, which may have been introduced since the last course.

By the end of the course candidates will be able to demonstrate the essential knowledge and skills needed to deal with any First Aid emergencies in the work place.

The course will be assessed by external assessors and all successful students will receive a certificate as recognised by the Health and Safety Executive (HSE). This certificate is valid for a period of 3 years.

Our First Aid Instructors who conduct the course and the assessors who assess the students, have qualifications that are acceptable to the Health and Safety Executive for teaching the statutory First Aid and whose registration is acceptable to Nuco Training Ltd.

Aim High Training and Development are able to tailor this course to meet the requirements of your organisation or for any individual.

All individuals will be provided with a HSE approved First Aid at Work manual, which includes all of the required information to accompany the course.
